This leaflet tells you how to comment, compliment or complain about our services. It explains what to do and how we can help.
This is one of a number of leaflets we produce for our customers.

At Riverside, we are committed to providing excellent service to all our customers. We value diversity and do everything we can to make our services available to as many people as possible. This commitment to equality is at the heart of everything we do.

Our commitment

At Riverside, our customers are at the heart of what we do and we are committed to delivering a high quality service.

We aim to be open and honest about what we do, provide information quickly and do our best to help anyone who contacts us.

Our standards

When we are dealing with your complaints, comments or compliments, we promise we will:

- take your complaint seriously
- keep you informed at all stages and you can choose how you want us to contact you
- try and sort your complaint out as quickly and effectively as possible
- provide you with help to fill in forms, if you need it
- provide you with a clear explanation of how the complaint will be dealt with
- keep to the timetable
- treat you with respect and keep any information you give us confidential
- make sure that you can easily get to and get into the building where any tenant panel will be held.

We value your feedback

We need to know what you think about what we do.

Whether it's good or bad, we value your opinions, as they can help us improve our services to you.

How do I contact you?

You can tell us what you think by:

- completing the form in this leaflet, posting it to the address on the form or handing it to a member of our team
- emailing us: info@riverside.org.uk
- going to our website and filling in the online form on the contact us page
- talking to a member of our team or visiting your local office
- telephoning 0345 111 0000
- tweeting on our Twitter page.

Making a comment or compliment

It's good to hear when we do something right. We can share what we've learnt around Riverside.

Your views help shape the way we work – we need your ideas about things you think we could improve.

When you contact us with your comments and compliments we will let you know what we've done as a result of what you've told us.

If your compliment is about a person, it will be passed on to their line manager.

Making a complaint

By telling us what's gone wrong, we can help put things right for you. Your feedback will help us improve our service to you.

Our complaint process has two stages. You need to let us know within six months of the problem occurring when making a complaint.

First, contact us with your complaint. You can find out how to do this on page 5.

Complaints: stage one

We will contact you as quickly as possible to let you know we've received your feedback and discuss what kind of outcome you expect.

When you complain to us, we will try to resolve the problem when we first contact you and agree with you what will happen next. This should happen within five working days of you contacting us. If you want us to, we will send you a letter to confirm that your complaint has been solved, but you must ask us for this.

If your complaint is too complicated to solve in stage one, or if a course of action cannot be agreed, it will go to stage two.

Once your complaint has been closed at stage one you have 30 days to come back to us and say you are not happy about what we've done. If 30 days have already passed, your complaint will be treated as a new complaint.

Complaints: stage two

If your complaint is not resolved in stage one you can ask us to move it to stage two. You need to let us know why you want to move to stage two and what you think we should have done to sort out your complaint in stage one.

We will contact you within three working days of you telling us to move your complaint to stage two.

Your complaint will be investigated. We aim to contact to let you know what we've found out and what we will do to resolve your complaint within 20 working days.

Who else can help?

If your complaint is not resolved by us you can take your complaint to a designated person.

This could be an MP, your local councillor or a recognised tenant panel.

They can:

- work with both sides to find a solution
- say if they think the solution we offered you was reasonable
- refer your complaint to the Housing Ombudsman Service if they think they are not able to offer a solution or uphold our solution.

The Riverside Tenants' and Residents' Complaints Panel, is our recognised panel. It is a group of tenants and residents who are supported by Riverside but are independent of us. The panel members are volunteers who have been trained in resolving complaints.

You can find more information about designated persons by visiting www.housing-ombudsman.org.uk

If you would like the panel to consider your complaint you can contact them by email complaintspanel@riverside.org.uk

Or by phoning the Customer Service Centre on 0345 111 0000

You may also refer your complaint to another tenants' panel provided it meets our agreed criteria.

If you don't wish to refer your complaint to a designated person you can wait eight weeks after you have received your final response from us and then refer your complaint directly to the Housing Ombudsman Service. The law says you should do this in writing.

Housing Ombudsman Service

Your complaint may be referred to the Housing Ombudsman Service if it is not resolved by the Riverside Tenants' and Residents' Complaints Panel or a designated person.

You can also go directly to the Ombudsmen eight weeks after you have had your final response to your complaint from us.

They will work to resolve your complaint in a number of ways. This could include:

- offering assistance and support to resolve the complaint between us, fairly and quickly
- suggesting possible ways for your complaint to be resolved, even if our complaints procedure has finished
- carrying out an investigation if they decide there is enough evidence to do this, for example if the case is complicated with lots of issues.

There are some complaints that the Ombudsman may not be able to consider. You can contact the Ombudsman to see if your complaint is within their jurisdiction.

You can do this before you make a formal complaint. The law says you should make your formal complaint to the Ombudsman in writing.

You can contact the Ombudsman by:

Writing to them at: 81 Aldwych,
London WC2B 4HN

Telephone: 0300 111 3000

Email: info@housing-ombudsman.org.uk

www.housing-ombudsman.org.uk

Getting independent help

You can ask someone else to act on your behalf. As long as we have your permission we can discuss and resolve your complaint with them.

What if I feel Riverside has not dealt with my complaint properly?

You can claim financial redress if you feel we've not provided a service that:

- is included in your tenancy agreement
- is not to an acceptable standard.

Please contact us to find out more information.

Any questions?

If you have any questions, or need more information, please contact us so we can help you. You can find out how to contact us at the back of this leaflet or on page 5.

Please note: there are some things our complaints process can't help you with, such as Government policy.
