

We are looking for people to talk to about renting and support.

We are a team from The Universities of York and Bristol who are doing some research about housing and support for people with learning disabilities.

We want to speak to 40 people who

- live in England
- have a learning disability
- rent their own place
- get a small amount of paid support or don't get any.

If you would like to take part or have any questions you can contact Eppie who is one of the researchers.
